BlumSafe® Becomes Only Safe Brand Featured in Chief Architect® Design Software Catalog

WHITE PLAINS, NY — September 9, 2025 — BlumSafe®, the trusted name in wall safes and built-in secure storage for watches, jewelry, and other valuables, is proud to announce its inclusion in the design catalog of ChiefArchitect.com. As the leading architectural home design software platform used by architects, builders, and design professionals across North America—with over one million installations — Chief Architect now features BlumSafe as its only wall safe brand.

This collaboration marks a major milestone for BlumSafe, reinforcing its position as the market's design-forward choice in the built-in security space. With Chief Architect integration, architects, interior designers, and builders can now seamlessly incorporate BlumSafe's premium built-in safes and secure display cabinets into digital designs and remodeling plans—enhancing both aesthetics and client value.

"Being the only safe manufacturer represented in Chief Architect is both an honor and a recognition of our commitment to blending security with style," said Robert Blum, Founder and CEO of BlumSafe. "This integration empowers professionals to deliver thoughtful, high-end designs that prioritize both form and function."

Key Benefits for Professionals:

- Streamlined Design Workflow: BlumSafe units can be digitally placed and visualized within cabinetry, walls, and custom closet plans—making design more efficient and precise.
- Client-Centric Security: Builders and designers gain a turnkey solution for discreet, in-wall secure storage that aligns with luxury interiors and Scandinavian cabinetry.
- Enhanced Project Realism: Renderings featuring BlumSafe help clients envision elegant security without compromise, leading to greater trust and buy-in.

BlumSafe's inclusion in the Chief Architect catalog comes amid growing demand for smart, integrated secure storage solutions in high-end residential spaces. From luxury homeowners to discerning custom builders, BlumSafe continues to redefine what it means to keep valuables secure—with discretion, sophistication, and design harmony.
